Hi all

Thought I'd better introduce myself.....Owner of 2 3.0l surfs... One an insurance right-off (but fixable, tailgate and bumper ) the other a hasty replacement with its own defects.....suffice to say that the current one needs 2 replacement black doors, rear window siezed (now replaced with the help of stormforce) fuel gauge all over the place, bullbar has a huge hole in the front (think i will just tape it up for the meantime) Cant believe i flew up to Inverness to get it !! In my defence it was an awful day pouring with rain and i had been up since 5am!!! ( I know , no excuse) Never noticed the door sills were badly corroded. I think I was a bit quick to buy it, but I needed a vehicle and the guy said it had no rust on it (ebay)

I am just waiting on the insurance to sort out the claim, so i am in no rush to get the tailgate and bumper fitted, although stormforce has sorted out these parts and I now have them ready to fit.

Yup - saw them then, very nice. :D Deff not - the only time I see 5am is if I drink my way there. Certainly wouldn't be racing round a campsite.
