I,ve finaly got my internet back. Some total [Dyslexic swearing] wit of a contractor for Virgin, who's about to loose his job, went to next door to sort a problem. The to$$er fixed it by chopping my cable and splicing it in to next door leaving me with no internet or cable tv. Unfortunately this was last Wednesday when about half of Virgin Media went tits up so this [Dyslexic swearing] up wasn't dicovered untill today, he even laid the cable on the surface through my garden. It seems that now Virgin have got to pull two new cables through from the concentrator. I,ve given them untill Friday to arrange a date or I'm putting a spade through the cable.
To say that I'm pi$$ed off is putting it mildly. I WANT THAT TWATS JOB !!!
I'd like his nuts on a platter as well but I'll make do with his job. :rant: :rant: :rant: :rant:
