That was from the 08 navex The idiot was trying to drive into the dew pond and got stuck the only reason the the case was going to court but he got off as the pond was not signed out of bounds .....It is now , and yes we have driven past it on the last 2 xmas runs

Btw the guy in it was one of the recovery team .....the driver was in a police car being read the riot act

It's on Wikipedia, but to save you looking. It was in August (3rd I think) 1919, on Merseyside, during a Police strike.
