I reckon he'll last until 4th December before he blows - anybody else who wants to hazard a guess can add it below ...

4th Dec Predictable Bob

I wouldn't do that John - not worth missing Bletchley Park just to watch some feckwit meltdown next door !

I've just got an itch about the Z guy from his attitude and the way he's jumped in ...

Hi Bob,

I would really like to have time to go round Bletchley Park, unfortunately I am having to provide hammers and spanners !! we are moving the Harrier GR3 XV752 up to Doncaster, so its strip down and dismantle saturday ready for the road transport monday.

Yes I am somewhat dismayed at this Ziggly character, I don't think I would stand for him editing any of my posts, I am just about back to battle strength so I may have a little 'sport' however I am sure others will already have him in their sights

I'm always a bit baffled by people who lurk for years, then suddenly explode over a month or so. He does seem to be a dick.

:lol:

Wish he'd hurry up, I'm bored of bleating emails about 'hacked posts'. Took me days to work out what he was even talking about.

Would it not make sense for someone to show him the error of his ways?

Nah [ Dyslexic swearing ] that what was I thinking :D

Yeah - must admit that I had a good look through the list !

There's more than a couple of them I'd be happy to own, pity I haven't the space to store them or the mmoney to keep them on the road ...

I am rather enjoying it. It may even prompt me to vote for the first time.
Well OK, let's not go overboard. :whistle:

Found it anyway...got bored..skip to last page and fall out/kiss and make up/group hug...got bored again.

IVF bit was a bit of a random surprise though. Perhaps it would make sense if I read it all...nah maybe not....

My take on strike...flew in to Heathrow yesterday and walked straight up to passport control..no queue.

I have a frozen pension from public sector...worth Jack before the financial meltdown.

I'm 51 in January.... So that's me shafted by being one month out and missing collecting the pension now till I'm 67...

TBH..I don't give a monkeys..now where is that big red bus due to knock me down tomorrow??.. :whistle:

Happy days...

I'm either getting old and mellow else just losing it. I'm agreeing with you on that score. :D

have i missed something?

Posted by: Predictable Bob

Nothing significant - just an idiot over the road trying to justify taking strike action over public sector pensions. It got short shrift from most of the membership

:lol:
