Well one job is in Bridgwater, and one in Inverness. Both pay the same...which is £10k a year more than the job I just lost. If it goes ok, I will step into a well paid job, with enough in the bank for a decent 3rd gen. :D

do you have a preference, the wild highlands or the wet somerset levels? If you like camping it up, Bridgewater does have a carnival so you could act out your Carmen Miranda fantasies finally and of course both have a good supply of sheep.

And in the post this morning:

I have been short listed for a position in Bridgwater.
This one is nearly twice as much dough !!!!!!!!!!!!!

The redundancy, although a pain, was a kick in the pants to get looking. and I did get a shed load of qualifications at the last place....made my CV look better

I'd advise against Bridgewater TBH - apart from the relative proximity to FoulArse your Caledonian Fanclub would miss you ;)
