Just had my insurance renewal from Adrian Flux £698 fully comp and the cheeky bastards want to automatically renew. Not a feckin prayer. I've managed to get a telephone quote from Admiral for £427..... Now to play them off against each other :devil:

Have you tried cashback sites ?

Sometimes you can get an improved quote and then 3 months later some loot back as well :thumbs:

Lodge 0.5 million with the bureau of motor insurers and you can drive legally...

Just so we're clear, Flux were going to rape you for £698 and now it's just a handjob for £424?

Same truck/cover details?

Yes. It seems that we bypassed the blowjob. Its just minus key care and personal accident £30 worth that I didn't realise was on the policy until I read it so no loss, infact the £30 will pay for a return trip to the static :D
£424 to insure any 3ltr car fully comp with protected no claims is very good with the loading we get for where we are living :/
