It's our own fault, it's self inflicted

It's the Brummie Bug :lol:

Not guilty. You get swine flu from south of the Watford Gap. If you google it you will find that it is transmitted from the postings of tree rats :devilish: :devilish:

And my garage is in a SHOCKING state. ..

So anyhow, I'm feeling much better thanks. I am rather concerned though, that over the last couple of days, we have learnt some uncomfortable facts. Brummie needs splints to keep it up, and via another thread Matt needs tena ladies to keep the emissions in! :D
